One of the greatest campaigns ever planned by the Christian churches of Missouri in behalf of their educational institutions will soon be launched. It is planned to raise at least $2,000,000 before Thanksgiving for the support of the six colleges belonging to the Christian church of the state.

The campaign will be formally launched in Nodaway county on next Tuesday evening, October 28 ,when a banquet will be served in Maryville to nearly two hundred men representing all the nineteen Christian churches of the county.

Rev. R. E. Snodgrass as county leader, and G. B. Roseberry as district financial chairman, are making final arrangements for this meeting. Letters are being sent today to the men who will be invited to attend the banquet, and then next Monday, by the use of about four teams, every one of the churches will be visited and the men seen personally.

Weaver, field secretary of Eeureka College, Illinois, will also be present and speak. Rev. Weaver spent six years in Japan as a missionary and is a man of power.

The committee regrets that not more than 200 can be served at this banquet for lack of room. So all who receive tickets should not fail to attend. In case anyone cannot be present they should telephone Rev. Mr. Snodgrass so someone else can be selected to fill the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKee of Clarksdale are spending a few days here, the former, prinicipal of the Clarksdale schools, attending the teachers meting.

M. J. ALDERMAN WILL HEAD BIG CONCERN AT MARSHALL

M. J. Alderman, formerly secretary and treasurer of the Alderman-Yehle Dry Goods store of this city, will move about November 1 to Marshall, Mo., where he will be connected with the Missouri Valley Mercantile Company, a corporation with $100,000 capital stock, as president of the corporation. This mercantile company is the largest retail business in the county. Brother Killed at Centralia.

Professor Neal, a former faculty member of the State Teachers College, was called from New York City by the death of his brother yesterday at Centralia, Mo. Since leaving Maryville, Professor Neal has been attending Columbia University at New York City. No particulars of the brother's death were learned other than that he had been accidentally killed.

E. L. Tilton of Mount Olivet, Robertson county, Kentucy, is the guest of his brother, E. E. Tilton, in Maryville.

NOTICE

Attention is hereby called to Sec. 8, Page 556, Session Act 1917 which requires that property owners remove all brush and weeds found growing along the roadside.

Weeds and brush which have been cut and left lying in the ditch obstruct the drainage and cause bad roads, by preventing free flowing of water in the ditches. Just as well not have any ditch to carry the water away as to have one entirely clogged with weeds and brush. A great deal of complaint also has been made of parties, who trim their hedges and leave same lying in or near the road. Hedge thorns and automobile tires mix easily but they make a poor mixture.

The Township Board intends to make a tour of inspection in the near future and an example may be made of some one.

Be in a position to say that does not mean "ME".

BAPTIST MEETING WAS STORMY ONE

MISSOURI CONVENTION FACED A SPLIT ON ALIGNMENT

JOINED SOUTHERN SIDE

Rev. L. M. Hale, Former Maryville Pastor, Took Part in Bolt That Followed Vote

(By International News Service)

St. Louis, Oct. 23. — (By mail). — Sharp division in the ranks of Missouri Baptists today threaten a disruption in that denomination in the state. The situation, resulting from a clamorous session of the Missouri Baptist Convention yesterday afternoon, when a resolution aligning the convention with the Southern Baptist Convention, is regarded as the most critical since the factional fight between nothern and southern branches of the denomination in the early Civil war days. Two hundred and fifty of the 1,100 delegates bolted the convention in the Third Baptist church and went into session in the nearby Union Methodist church, in a separate convention of their own, after the resolution was adopted by a vote of about 4 to 1. Included in the insurgent ranks are thirty-five of the most prominent Baptist clergy of the state. Among these are Revs. W. H. Geistweit, pastor of the Third Baptist church, St. Louis, where the convention was being held; W. C. Bitting, pastor of the Second Baptist church, St. Louis; C. B. Miller, First Church, Springfield, Mo.; W. S. Abernathy of Kansas City; and Rev. T. M. Young, who acted as chairman of the insurgents' convention.

The resolution was passed following a tumultous session during which prayer for peace and an alarm clock, invoked to choke off speakers at the expiration of their time limit, failed to prevent what nearly resembled chaos. One delegate, jumping to his feet during the hottest part of the debate, shouted that in his opinion the convention "resembled a Democratic state convention more nearly than a gathering of churchmen."

The resolution was introduced by Rev. George L. Hale of St. Joseph. His brother, Rev. L. M. Hale of the Delmar Baptist church, was one of those who immediately took up the fight against the resolution and joined in the bolt. The opponents stood up for retention of the "Missouri plan" arrived at during the fight in Civil war days, under which Missouri Baptists could affiliate with either branch of the denomination and making the state a sort of "neutral ground" between Northern and Southern Baptists.

Doctor Bitting contended that one of the motives back of the resolution was the alleged radical views of Dr. Shailer Matthews of the School of Divinity of Chicago University and head of the Baptist convention. Doctor Bitting declared that an organ of the Southern Baptists recently denounced Doctor Matthews as "an infidel of the most dangerous sort," and declared that views taught at the Chicago University tended toward atheism.

Dozens of delegates were on the floor shouting for recognition at the same time. Loud applause greeted speakers on both sides. The convention moderator, Commodore Perry Storis of Slater, Mo., called for an adjournment while prayer was made for peace in the convention. After the prayer, in order to save time, speeches were limited to ten minutes duration. It became so difficult to hold speakers to the time limit that one delegate left and returned in a few minutes with a large alarm clock. This was set at the beginning of each speech and at the termination of each ten minutes the gong went off.

The bolt came late in the afternoon when the thirty-five revolting clergymen issued a call for the separate convention. During this meeting Doctor Bitting declared he would not work "with men who camouflaged an ethical procedure with orthodoxy." A

ASSOCIATION NOTES.

The members of the primary council enjoyed a luncheon at the Bainum Hotel Thursday. Fifty were present, among whom were President Richardson, Miss Dobbs, national chairman of the council; Doctor Kelley, dean of the University of Kansas; primary teachers, supervisors, superintendents and county superintendents, to all of whom the council is open for membership.

Miss Miller, chairman of the state organization, acted as toastmistress. President Richardson said that the need is not for more organizations, but for better use of those we already have, as many of the mistakes of the past have been due to a lack of appreciation of the real meaning of the organization.

Miss Dobbs then spoke on the aims of the council and what it expects to accomplish through greater co-operation between school and community.

Miss Hogue, local chairman, told of the plans of the organization for the year.

Miss Brunner, who is a charter member, spoke of the need of the recognition of the privilege and responsibility which has been granted women of becoming members of school boards and of occupying other positions which will increase their opportunities of helping the elementary school and the elementary school teacher.

Doctor Kelley gave the results of some observations made through experimental studies which will change many of the methods of teaching in the elementary school.

Doctor Keller closed the program with a plea for better scholarship on the part of the elementary school teacher.

In the department of rural school teachers, Prof. J. A. Higdon, superintendent at Tarkio, began his address on "The Best Means by Which Rural School Graduates Can Enter High School as Well Prepared as Pupils From City Grades" with the statement that "Practice is the greatest need of the country child." Professor Higdon went on to say that "the country child does not get to practice the use of the mother tongue as does the city child. Language is the chief vehicle of all learning."

Miss Louise Jones of Atchison county, the second speaker on the program, began her discussion of "How the Daily Program May be Vitalized" by asking the question, "Are we getting anything vital and valuable out of our work, or are we using the fifty year old method?"

To vitalize the work of the school, health crusade, dramatization and posters were suggested in the work of hygiene and physiology. Miss Jones cited first aid to a wounded soldier as a means of dramatizing the study of caring for wounds.

"The Fairview Rural High School; Its Present and Its Future" was the topic of the third speaker on the program. Mr. Montford, superintendent, Fairview, stated that the aim of the Fairview rural high school was to offer the country boys and girls the same advantages as boys and girls in the city.

In the department of high school teachers, J. C. Stoy, principal of the Chillicothe high schools, presided at the meeting yesterday afternoon in the absence of A. L. Threlkeld, who was unable to be here. Mr. Himburg was elected treasurer. A committee of three was appointed by the chairman to bring nominees for office before today's meeting.

Mr. Stoy gave a very interesting opening talk on the "Activities in the High Schools."

G. W. Diemer, superintendent, Excelsior Springs, gave the address on "The Junior-Senior High School Idea and the Present Demands Upon Education."

Mr. Diemer first explained what the Junior high school is. It consists of the seventh, eighth and often ninth grades. It is a separate organization and has departmental teaching. Each teacher has a special department in which she is especially interested.

The department of elementary grade teachers held their second session in the library this afternoon. Each speaker was allowed twenty minutes, and general discussions were held at the close of each talk.

1. Medical Inspection in a Small School—Dr. F. R. Anthony, Maryville.
2. Americanizing Missouri School Children—Egbert Jennings, supt. of schools, King City.

SESSION TONIGHT TO INTEREST ALL

SPEAKERS AT S. T. C. WILL DEPART FROM TECHNICAL SIDE

DEAN LOEB ON PROGRAM

Mary C. C. Bradford, Colorado State Superintendent, On List Here Tonight and Tomorrow

The most important session of the Northwest Missouri Teachers association from the point of outside or general interest will be tonight, when addresses will be made by Dr. Isidor Loeb, dean of the faculty of the University of Missouri at Columbia, and Mary C. C. Bradford, state superintendent of schools, Denver, Colo., and former president of the National Teachers association.

Mrs. Bradford is one of the most widely known educators in the country, is the author of several text books on school organization and methods and a lecturer of note. She will also lecture tomorrow morning.

Dr. Loeb will have for his subject "The Problem of Taxation in Missouri," and his address will the first on the night program, following two vocal numbers given by Miss Margaret James, supervisor of music. Dr. Loeb is professor of political science and public law at the university.

This morning's program was opened with a quartet given by Miss James, Miss O'Brien, Miss Annette Simmons and Miss Mary Croy. Addresses were given by President J. A. Thompson of Tarkio College, Tarkio, President Ira Richardson and Dr. Fred Keller, professor of education at the State Teachers college. The subjects spoken upon were education from a professional and ethical standpoint rather than a remunerative one; the importance of a first class education that has been made evident by the conditions of the past few years and the importance of a state organization to lower the percentage of illiteracy in Missouri.

Dr. Fred Keller, professor of education spoke at the morning session from the subject, "A New Ethics." The lecturer brought out some strong points saying brief; "Teachers need criticism and a broader growth yet teachers sacrifice, prepare and serve as no other profession. The public is exercising its privilege to censure the profession should know the conditions and handicaps of the teachers before doing so.

"We have religious and political, but not economical democracy. However we have the machinery to get what is right—the ballot. Then we are to use it, for with the ballot, organized violence is a crime against society.

"The same stanards of service with a proportionate reward need be applied to all other professions and all professions and business need put service above pay. Many, as blind Bartimaeus go begging for the aid of those who can serve because of inability to return a material reward.

"Teachers will have to go beyond the walls of the school room and take their place in the life around them where right thinking is necessary for sound action. If we are true to our trust we shall hear "Thy Faith has Made Thee Whole."

The Chamber of Commerce, citizens and teachers college of Maryville were complimented as manifesting this spirit of service demanded.

Mt. Ayr Meeting Successful.

Rev. Thomas Young, who is conducting a protracted meeting at Mt. Ayr church, east of Maryville, announces eight more additions, making a total of thirty-seven since the meetings began last Sunday. BOARD OF CONTROL OF THE H. S. ASSOCIATION MEETS

Protest From Field Meet Sustained; Method of Awarding Championship Changed

After an informal dinner at a restaurant downtown last evening, the board of control of the Northwest Missouri High School Association held its regular meeting in connection with the meeting of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association. The formal business session was held at the building of the Farmers Trust Company.

A protest from the 1919 field meet, filed by Maryville against Cameron for substituting men not entered in the relay, was sustained, Cameron admitting the offense. The question of giving the Class B relay cup to Ridgeway was left to the corresponding secretary, Prof. H. P. Swinehart of Maryville, who decided for such action.

Business of a general nature was discussed. The smaller schools not playing football will be allowed to conduct an outdoor basketball tournament in the fall as they wish, reporting later to the board. It was voted to change the old method of awarding the football championship, in which the team with the largest percentage of victories was winner, but the new system was not announced.

It was decided to have the same debate subject as that used in the state league, on the question of the merchant marine.

The members present were: A. L. Dailey, the president, superintendent at Richmond; G. W. Diemer, the secretary, superintendent at Excelsior Springs; Superintendent J. M. McDonald of Maryville the treasurer; Prof. H. P. Swinehart of the State Teachers College, corresponding secretary; and E. H. Ellsworth, of Platte City, E. L. Hobart of Benton High School, St. Joseph, and Egbert Jennings of King City. Visitors present were: Superintendent Boyd of Albany, Earl Duncan, Gentry county superintendent, Ed Malotte and Dr. Karl R. Malotte.

STATEWIDE CAMPAIGN PLANS TO RAISE TEACHERS' WAGES

Local Organizations Arranged For and State Association Meeting Will Work, Too

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 23.—A statewide campaign to increase pay of teachers in the public schools of Missouri is to be made, according to a statement of Miss T. C. Geeks, president of the Missouri State Teachers' Association. With this in view, efforts are to be made to organize strong local organization of teachers in every section of the state, and a reorganization of the Association is to be effected at a convention in St. Louis beginning Nov. 8.

Seven to eight thousand teachers are expected to attend the convention. A committee has been appointed to draw up a new constitution for the Association, embodying clauses providing for increased pay. This committee is headed by Charles H. Williams, director of the extension department of the University of Missouri.

The teachers of Missouri are underpaid," said Miss Gecks, "and there is a feeling that we must have a stronger organization."

Can't Scare Longshoremen.

New York, Oct. 24.—The threat of the United States shipping board to employ strikebreakers if the longshoremen are out for more than a week here and no't return to work by tonight had little effect this morning, as but few strikers have returned to work.

BOTH SIDES KILL COAL WAGE PLAN

17 PER CENT INCREASE IS TURNED DOWN BY CONFERENCE

LESS HOPE SEEN TODAY

Secretary Wilson Will Appeal to the President; Strike Seems Certain to Start

BULLETIN

Washington, Oct. 24.—Secretary Wilson's proposal for wage increases for miners to avert the threatened coal strike was rejected this afternoon by both miners an doperators. The rejected proposal would have made a seventeen per cent increase in the miners' wages. The conference agreed to adjourn until four o'clock this afternoon. Wilson will attempt to communicate with the president. Lewis declared at the close of the conference the situation is "less hopeful than last night."

Washington, Oct. 24. — Without knowledge of any concessions, the coal miners' and operators' conference here today began actual discussion of increased wages. At the opening of the conference Secretary Wilson asked the operators to negotiate without reservations, and they replied they would not negotiate unless the strike order is rescinded. Lewis was asked by Secretary Wilson as to his frame of mind, and replied "The strike order still stands." Both parties agreed to discuss the proposition for wage increase of fifteen cents a ton for pick mining, with proportionate increases of other grades of work.

Public Group Still at Work.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The remnant of the industrial conference, the public group, has nothing to do today except consider plans for the report of industrial conditions throughout the country desired by the president. They will meet this afternoon to formulate plans and draft a letter to the president of its intentions.

Organized Labor Plans Coup.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Organized labor is planning a gigantic coup, it was learned at the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor today. Aroused by failure in the industrial conference, labor is planning to work more diligently than even for the nation-wide organization of workers. A general conference will be called at an early date to deal with future plans for labor, it was formally announced at labor headquarters here this morning.

Bolshevik Movement Traced.

2. The Remedy—Richard Powell, supt., Bethany.

General discussion of this and other high school topics.

The meeting of the department o rural school teachers was given over entirely to a conference on Vitalized Rural Life. President Richardson, State Teachers College, Maryville, was in charge.

Since the adoption of the rotation plan of teaching agriculture this seemed a propitious time for a general conference on the above topic. It was intended to be of maximum assistance to the rural teachers and give them something concrete to take home with them. The program consisted of brief talks by county superintendents, teachers and others, and an effort was made to provide some demonstration work. Provision was made for questions and for general discussion.

The importance of the lesson assignment was summed up in the address given Thursday afternoon, in the department of elementary teachers, by Prof. C. A. Hawkins, instructor in the State Teachers College.

The motive of physical training in the schools is that we may send out of our schools bodies that are well trained, said A. L. Dailz, superintendent of schools, Richmond, Mo., in his address.

Our training has been mental training, the physical training being neglected—but physical training makes better bodies, which enable us to do better physical work and creates greater mentality. The mind must be nursed or housed in a body that is a good physical body.

That music holds an important place in the curriculum of the school was stated by L. M. Hosman, superintendent of schools, Gallatin, Mo. The ultimate aim of school music is to cultivate an appreciation for music, not to cultivate voices. To cultivate this appreciation the instructor must have some musical training as is given in the Teachers Colleges.

The entries in the chokery section of the domestic science department are fewer than usual this year but this is due to lack of sugar and not to any cessation of activity or interest among the school pupils. This shortage of sugar has made possible only a small exhibit of cakes, candy and canned and preserved fruit, but the amount shown is exceptionally fine.

LITERARY SOCIETY AT S. T. C. CONVICTS ONE AS BOLSHEVIK

Eurekans Set a Hard Sentence on Howard Stewart; Two Others Have Homecoming Parties

The Eurekan Literary Society of the State Teachers College rendered an enjoyable program to the old members of the society Thursday afternoon. The program opened by singing the society song. The next number was a mock trial. Howard Stewart was tried for being a Bolshevik and a Red agitator. The following participated in the trial:

Ralph Wray, judge; W. E. McDonald, detective; C. T. Richards, prosecutor; Clarence King defended the case; Abbie Murray and Gladys Bookman were the prosecuting witnesses. The jury was composed of Prof. Ezell, John Lawton, Clifford Hull, Jay Puckett, John Phipps and Virgil Robinson, while John Price, Harold Houchens W. E. McDonald and Howard Stewart acted as witnesses.

The jury's verdict was: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of first degree murder with malicious intent, and sentence him to forsake for some period of time, to-wit, eight weeks, the company of women, and also to make a minimum of forty touchdowns in Saturday's football game."

The Philomathean Literary Society held their annual homecoming yesterday afternoon at the college and entertained many of their old members who are attending the teachers meeting here this week. A piano solo was given by Miss Lois Hawkins, a reading by Mrs. C. G. Stiensmeyer and a vocal solo by Miss Sallie Simmons. A number of letters from former members of the society were read and talks were made by some of the visiting members.

The Excelsior Society gave a tea in the ladies' parlor of the college for old members of the society. Miss Ruth Foland gave a solo, "My Own United States"; Miss Minnie Turner a piano solo; and Miss Mary Croy, "The Sign of the Cross."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c.

Now Is a Good Time To Drive Out Catarrh

The Trouble Is in the Blood.

Summer catarrh, with its nauseous discharge, stuffed up glands, difficult breathing, and summer colds, is bad enough, but the worst of it is yet to come if you neglect to check the growth that is forming to attack you with ten-fold greater power during the winter.

That's why it is so important to treat catarrh with S. S. S. during warm weather.

It is now an established fact that catarrh is in the blood and that lotions and salves do not give relief. The experience of others has proven that S. S. S. strikes at the root of the trouble. Waste no time in this matter, for it is of the utmost importance. Write to our Medical Advisor about your case. Address Swift Specific Co., Dept. 53, Atlanta, Ga.

Punk Roses and Pink Noses.

A certain editor and publisher of a country newspaper in Kansas was asked to leave the community as a result of a typographical error in his report of the wedding of the mayor's daughter, says a western exchange.

After exhausting his supply of large words about the "blushing bride," he said: "The large, elaborate bouquets or roses were punk.'

The mayor demanded a correction and apology in the next week's issue, all of which the editor was glad to promise.

The next issue contained "We wish to apologize for the manner in which we disgraced the beautiful wedding last week. Thru error of the typesetter we were made to say 'the roses were punk.' What we wanted to say was that 'the noses were pink'."

At first glance it seemed as if all Maryville and the surrounding country were in the library, either as dancers or spectators, but there was always room for another couple. The dancing was continued with great regularity until 11 o'clock, when "Home, Sweet Home" ended the affair.

SCHOOL MUST FILL GAPS IN CHILD'S LIFE, SHE SAYS

Miss Ella Victoria Dobss, University of Missouri, on Program at Last Night's Session

The present day child loses the knowledge of many things his father and grandfather learned in the life of the home. The school must, in some way, fill these gaps in his experience. This was the theme of the lecture given Thursday evening in the college auditorium by Miss Ella Victoria Dobbs, assistant professor of manual arts, University of Missouri.

Miss Dobbs' lecture was built upon three fundamental principles which she stated at the beginning of her lecture. First, the school exists to train the young in those things in which the home cannot train them. Second, the subject matter which must be taught depends upon the social demand. Third, educational method is based upon the way children learn.

Many changes have come in our manner of living during the past few years. No longer are our food and clothing prepared at home. The child then, when he comes from the home lacks many of these experiences and the school must supply them.

The old school with its idea that good children are willing to learn will not give this experience. A study of the child has shown that the child is much like a plant. Therefore the school should be a child garden, a place where children grow. This study has shown that individual differences must be recognized; that children grow from the inside out. The life of the child is expressed through activity, therefore the school must be a place of activity.

Citizenship is the chief business of the school. The methods used should develop the individual child. Strong bodies should be developed through play. Ideals must be formed, largely through social activities. This is the period of habit formation and the most important habit to be formed is the "joyous habit of success."

This habit, Miss Dobbs said in closing her lecture, will solve the problem of citizenship. If everyone forms the habit of success there will not be half of the world striving against the other half, whom they envy because of their success.

The toys which can be made by the children as one form of school activity, added much to the effectiveness of the lecture, by showing that the principles used are practical and have already been used in many schools.

Orchestra music was furnished by Schumacher's orchestra for a half hour before the program began. Miss Alys Swedeberg played a piano solo, and Dr. Gilbert S. Cox, pastor of the M. E. church, sang two numbers. Sam Baker, state superintendent of schools, was expected to make an address, but was unavoidably detained at his office.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss FLO KELLY, 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervous

WHITE LEGHORNS PROVE TO BE BEST LAYERS IN CONTEST

Excelled All Other Breeds During August in Competition Conducted by M. U. Service

The White Leghorns demonstrated their ability to lay during the hot weather by outlaying all other breeds during August in the Missouri Farm Flock Laying Contest, conducted by T. S. Townsley of the Extension Service of the University of Missouri, College of Agriculture. The 1,436 White Leghorn hens in 8 different flocks laid a total of 17,781 eggs for the month or an average of 11.7 eggs for each bird. Their nearest competitors were the White Rocks, with an average of 10.8 eggs from each of the 440 hens in 5 flocks reporting. The Brown Leghorns ranked third as a breed with an average of 10.5 eggs from each of the 856 hens belonging to this breed.

The total production for the 7,350 hens for August was 68,146 eggs or an average of 9.2 eggs per bird. This is only 0.4 of an egg less than the July average. First honors for the highest flock average for this month goes to O. E. Jones, a blind poultryman of Cole County, who got 164 eggs during August from nine hens and one laying pullet. Geo. V. Hinkle, of Holt County, whose flock of White Leghorns have been near the top for several months, captured second honors with an average of 15.8 eggs from each of 94 birds.

The excess of income over feed continues to show a healthy profit on most of the demonstration farms. The average income per farm from poultry and eggs for August was $59.67. The feed cost for this month for the average farm was $22.99, leaving a net profit of 36.68 per farm. The net profit over feed cost on the average farm from November 1, 1918, to September 1, 1919, amounts to $268.19. The average egg production for each hen in the contest from November 1, to September 1, is 91.4 eggs. The predieition made a few months ago that the average egg production would pass the one hundred mark for the year now appears certain to be realized.

ICE DEALER HAS WON HIS FIGHT

E. M. Rounds Kept Going Down Hill Until He Took Tanlac

E. M. Rounds, the ice dealer of 3206 Chelsea street, Kansas City, Mo., called at the Owl Drug Store, recently and said:

"This Tanlac is no more like any other medicine I have tried than night is like day. At the time I began taking it I was in pretty bad shape and getting worse all the time, but I had not finished my first bottle until there was a marked improvement in my condition.

"My stomach was all out of order and I had ben suffering from rheumatism and other troubles for two years, or more. My joints were so stiff and painful that I could hardly walk or raise my arms. My appetite went back on me and what little I did manage to eat would ferment and the gas formed by it would make me miserable for hours. This gas would press on my heart and alarm me as my breath seemed like it would stop. I often had raging headaches, and would get so dizzy I could hardly stand up. I had used a number of different kinds of medicines, but kept losing ground until I got in such a fix that I simply had to go dragging around.

"Seeing in the papers where so many people right here in Kansas City had gotten rid of similar troubles by taking Tanlac I began using it myself and it is wonderful how quickly I began feeling right again. I have used five bottles now and am feeling like my old self again. The rheumatism is so near gone that I hardly notice it any more and my appetite is just fine. Before taking Tanlac I would lie awake half the night in my nervousness and pain, but now I simply sleep like a log. I can eat just anything and am able to get in a hard day's work every day. I am only glad to say a good word for Tanlac for it certainly has put me on my feet."

"Tanlac is sold in Maryville by Koch Pharmacy, in Conception Junction by A. M. Colly, in Pickering by H. M. Lincoln, in Burlington Junction by Coster Pharmacy, in Barnard by Bear Drug Co., in Elmo by King Drug Co., in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wiley, in Ravenwood by C. A. Shunk, in Arkoe by Rufus R. Smith, in Hopkins by Hopkins Drugs Co., and in Parnell by F. L. Hart." ADV.
